BIG MUSIC FESTIVAL TO BRING THOUSANDS

International Eisteddfod to be Held at Pittsburg Next Week---Charleroi Man to Direct Choirs in Two Contests

MANY COUNTRIES TO BE REPRESENTED

Next week one of the greatest music festivals of the age will take place at Pittsburg in the Capt. William R. Jones Memorial International Eisteddfod, which will be held at Exposition hall, July 2, 3, 4 and 5. Aside from the importance of the affair as a musical event, Charleroi people will have interest because of the fact that Prof. I. T. Daniel, music supervisor in the schools is to direct two choirs in two of the biggest prize contests. In addition to the musical part of the eisteddfod, there will be poetical and literary contests that will bring out some of the best Welsh talent in the world.

Some of the most noted musical and literary people in this and other countries will be in Pittsburg for the eisteddfod. People will come from all over the world for the event, and many nationalities will be represented in the various contests. One male choir, the Rhondda Male party, will come from Wales to participate in the male chorus contest. One man has been on his way to Pittsburg for the last two months from a remote corner of Alaska and plans to arrive in good season for all the big events. He is not to be a contestant either, but is coming merely to attend the festival.

Chief local interest centers in the male chorus competition and the mixed chorus competition. The male chorus competition will be on Friday morning July 4, at 9 o'clock. Prof. I. T. Daniel, will conduct in this competition a male choir of 60 voices chosen from singers of Homestead, Munhall, Duquesne, McKeesport, Turtle Creek, Braddock, Charleroi and Monessen. In the mixed chorus competition which will be on Saturday afternoon he will conduct a choir of 150 voices chosen from singers of Homestead, Munhall, Duquesne, Braddock, McKeesport, Swissvale, Monessen and Charleroi.

The mixed chorus competition will be for three prizes. The first will be $5,500 and a gold medal for the conductor, the second $1,000 and the third $500. Some of the very best choirs in the country are entered. All the entries for the competition are: Cleveland choir, under Conductor J. Powell Jones, who last year was adjudicator for the Monessen eisteddfod; Pittsburg choir under Conductor Morris Stephens; Monongahela Valley United Choir under Conductor I. T. Daniel, of Charleroi; Philadelphia choir under Dr. Lewis Watkins; Scranton choir under Conductor John Watkins; Chicago choir, under Conductor Hugh W. Owens.

There are 14 choirs entered for the male chorus competition, including the Rhondda Male party from Wales. The first prize for this event will be $1,000 and the second $500. In this chorus as well as in the mixed chorus Charleroi will be represented in addition to Prof. Daniel by Warren Kinder, tenor. Monessen will be represented by one singer "Jack" Harvey.

tures of the whole eisteddfod will be tures of the whole eisteddfod will be a mass performance on Saturday night of "King Olaf," Sir Edward's beautiful composition, by the combined competitive choirs. Noted singers who will assist at the eisteddfod will be Evan Williams, the famous tenor; Gwilym Miles of New York city, probably the most noted Welsh baritone singer in America, Mrs. Bessie Tudor of New York; Miss Sue Harvard of Pittsburg and Mrs. Edith Harris Scott of Pittsburg.

Each day's program is to be as follows: Wednesday, Gorsedd convocation conducted by Archdruid Dyfed, and juvenile choral competition.

Thursday morning, preliminaries; afternoon, competitions on soprano and bass solos, duet for soprano and alto, English recitation, crowning of the bard and ladies' choral competition.

Friday morning at 9 o'clock, preliminaries; 12 o'clock noon competitions on contralto and tenor solos, duet for tenor and baritone, original oration and male choral competition; evening at 7:30, grand eisteddfod concert in which the combined 14 male choirs will render the best selections, as well as Dr. Parry's Pilgrim Chorus" and T. J. Davies "Cambrian Song of Freedom." Vocal selections by artists of international repute.

Saturday morning, Gorsedd session and preliminaries; 12 o'clock noon competitions on baritone solo, piano solo, quintet, chairing of the bard and chief choral competition; evening at 7:30, mass performance of "King Olaf" by the combined competitive choirs, assisted by an orchestra.

Pittsburg is already filling up for the eisteddfod. Not only will every part of the United States be represented but there will be people in attendance from many other lands, including Australia, Tasmania, South Africa, England and Wales. One of the first to come from Wales was an old friend of Prof. Daniel's from the former home of the local man. This is Prof. Isaac Edwards, who was in Charleroi this week to see Prof. Daniel.

The eisteddfod is having all kinds of backing, including that of Andrew Carnegie. This is partly because of the fact the eisteddfod is a memorial to Capt. William R. Jones, who was for years the head of the Carnegie mills in the vicinity of Pittsburg. The real purpose of the eisteddfod is to create funds to establish an institution for aged and infirm Welsh people.

A good show every day at the Star. Come and we will convince you. 283-tf

DORA UNDER ARREST; DEVELOPMENTS SLOW

Little Done Yet in Case of Woman Who Skipped Bond--Bondsman Tells on Her--- Charge Remains Unsettled

Skipping her bond of $300 failed to procure freedom for Dora Gilmore, the somewhat notorious young woman caught in a recent raid out Maple Creek. Dora was re-arrested at Belle Vernon this morning at about 3 o'clock after her bondsman "squealed." She had been since last Wednesday in Pittsburg, McKeesport and Belle Vernon and this morning it is stated when a rested was in a recently rented house near the railroad tracks at Belle Vernon entertaining company.

What will be done with Dora is a question that is hard to answer. Peculiar phases are showing forth in the case. District Attorney Richard G. Mille was interviewed over the telephone this morning and his instructions were asked. District Attorney Miller explained that the reason he was not at North Charleroi when eleven caught in a raid were given a hearing the other night was because he was away from Washington and did not know when the hearing was to be. This would make it seem that County Detective McCleary had been very neglectful, in spite of the fact that he had announced that the county officials were very desirous of getting some of the alleged violators before the court.

Justice of the Peace Harry W. Scott of North Charleroi before whom the information was entered made an effort this morning to get in touch with District Attorney Miller, but was unable to locate him by telephone. Citizens are somewhat wrathful at the turn affairs has taken. Dora was chased out of Wireton it is understood and citizens do not wish Charleroi to be classed as a worse town than that disorderly place across the river.

Apparently Mike Deas, the Greek from a Fifth street shoe shine parlor, who went Dora's bond knew where she was all the time. Anyhow Dora makes the assertion freely according to the police, that Mike was with her in Pittsburg on Thursday and bought her a nice new gown at one of the big stores. It was at his knowledge the police say that she came to Belle Vernon. He was with her there a part of Friday according to the story told and in the belief of Dora became jealous when she entertained another man. The Greek told the police Friday night he wanted her arrested, though previously he had informed them, they say, that he didn't care a rap for his $300. Chief of Police C. W. Albright and Patrolman James Murphy went to Belle Vernon at 3 o'clock and to the place where it was said Dora was stopping. Dora was there so they simply brought her back and locked her up.

Now it is understood that the bond money has been forfeited. If Dora remains firm to her promise she will reimburse the Greek for his exceeding good nature and able assistance. Then she may be held for court and she may have to pay out some more money.

LEGISLATURE TURNS BACK CLOCK; QUITS

Pennsylvania House and Senate in Session Until After Midnight---Important Bills Are Finally Adopted

STATE-WIDE PRIMARY BILL IS PASSED

Harrisburg, June 28---By turning the clock back several times the legislature was enabled to adjourn at a late hour this morning, thus preserving the fictions that it kept its promise to adjourn on Friday. The session was the longest since 1901, which adjourned on the same date, and more than 3,000 bills were introduced in the two houses.

Among the more important pieces of legislation which passed were a public utilities bill, a state-wide primary bill, a measure establishing the commission form of government with the initiative and referendum in more than a score of cities having less than 100,000 population; a bill reducing the hours of employment for women to ten hours a day and 54 a week; a bill regulating cold-storage; a bill taxing anthracite coal five cents a ton and resolutions ratifying the Federal amendment for the direct election of United States senators and submitting to the voters of the state a proposition to amend the constitution so that $50,000,000 may be borrowed for improvement of highways. The legislature also adopted a resolution proposing woman's suffrage.

Other important legislation enacted created a department of labor and industry, taking the place of the factory inspection department. In connection with this action there was passed a resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution to abolish the department of internal affairs and to divide its functions between the departments of labor and industry and agricultural and forestry. Other bills passed provided for electrocution of condemned murderers; establishing a system of licenses for hunters; adding vocational education to the state school system; providing for auxiliary forestry reserves to aid in reforestation of lands and conservation of water supply and enlarging the authority of the State over all waterways.

Estimates of the appropriation bills passed run between $75,000,000 and $80,000,000. Of this amount more than $18,000,000 is carried in the general appropriation bill for the expenses of state government and more than $25,000,000 was appropriated for charitable and educational institutions. The state school system for which the appropriation was advanced to $15,000,000 in 1907, was increased this session to $16,000,000. The estimated revenues of the state are expected to be under $65,000,000, so that reductions must be made by the governor, who has the authority to pare down all appropriation bills.

Proposed legislation that failed of enactment included workmen's compensation, minimum wage bill for women, initiative and referendum for the state at large and for Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Scranton and more than 900 boroughs.

So much disatisfaction is expressed over the failure of the senate to pass the workmen's compensation bill, that it is rumored that an extra session will be called by Governor Tener this winter for that purpose.

WILL SHOW FIREWORKS

Fourth Display Being Arranged For at Eldora Park

DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Dancing all day with a special display of fireworks in the evening is the program that will be featured at Eldora Park on the Fourth of July which comes next Friday. Annually the Fourth is made a big date at Eldora Park and this year the observance will be better than usual if it can be made so. Already preparations are under way at the amusement resort to entertain one of the biggest crowds that ever assembled there. One of the biggest days this season was last Sunday when Joseph Nirella and his prize band from Pittsburg appeared to give free concerts, but it is believed that the crowd of 5,000 or more that day will be beaten by far by the July Fourth assemblage.

Plans that were carried out as nearly as possible on Memorial day for a basket picnic will be followed in the Fourth preparations. The only thing to mar the enjoyment of the offerings on Memorial day was the inclement weather. Even that did interfere with the fireworks.

In the fireworks display this Fourth special pieces will be set off. There will be the usual supply of rockets, to-

CHARGES DROPPED

Legislative Probe of Judges' Election Discontinued

VOTE FOR IS 92 TO 83

The house of representatives at Harrisburg on Friday dropped the charges made by H. S. Dumbauld against Judges Robert E. Umbel and John Q. Van Swearingen of Fayette county, by a vote of 92 to 83. This means that the continuation of the hearing, which had been set for next Monday in Uniontown, will be abandoned, notwithstanding the opinion of Attorney General James C. Bell that the power of the committee to conduct hearings would not cease by reason of adjournment of the legislature.

SOCIALIST WILL GIVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE TONIGHT

"The Groans of the People," is the subject of a Socialist lecture to be given this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue by William Parker. The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views.

The address deals with the history of mankind from the days of savagery down to the present time and is said to be interesting and instructive. Pictures of children laboring in mills and industries of the country will be shown on slides with others comparing the homes of the poor with the palaces of the rich.

The lecture is being given under the auspices of the local branch of the Socialist party.

CAMPAIGN FOR STATE BANNER TO BE STARTED

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Federated Bible classes of Charleroi will hold a meeting at the First Presbyterian church at which time it is hoped and expected that all superintendents and Adult Bible Class teachers of the Charleroi district will be present. The matter of campaigning for the banner to be awarded to the county nearest perfect in their record at the coming State convention will be taken up.

PASSENGERS ARE SHAKEN UP IN WRECK

Passengers were shaken up and the pilot of Pittsburg and Charleroi car No. 3602 was stoven in Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when the car was sideswiped at Library crossing. The car which met in the collision with the passenger car was a work car which had been crossing from the tracks to get out of the way of the big inbound car. The track was practically smashed with the car. When Morgan Elder of the passenger car, rounding a curve saw collision was inevitable he jumped. He had his ankle sprained. Probably he was the most injured of all. No medical aid was required for anyone.

PLAYGROUNDS CELEBRATION MAY BE HELD

Plans for a Fourth of July celebration at the playgrounds are being considered and it is probable that a program will be mapped out shortly. The playgrounds is a favorite gathering place now for young folks over the town. Friday afternoon the ball ground was the scene of excitement when a tea mfrom down town and one from the hill played. The game was a good one.

A JOINT AT A TIME.

Like the man who decided to cut off his dog's tail and began by amputating a joint at a time, the achievements of the legislature just adjourned include a few joints of progressiveness, although not nearly so many as the public was led to believe would be attained. Indeed, all the parties pledged infinitely more than was given and the written pledges of the individual members led the people to believe that no difficulty would be encountered in carrying out what the various parties promised. The broken pledges, however, again emphasize the weakness of our representative form of government, where representativees choose to represent special interests rather than the interests of the people who elected them. This experience, however, gives an increased impetus to the changes that are coming whereby the people will have a more direct say in the enactment of the laws by which they are governed.

However, in view of previous and existing conditions, the achievements of the session just ended are really a distinct gain. The public utilities and state wide primary laws are apparently good ones, and while the non-partisan ballot failed to pass it will ultimately arrive. A few years ago the enactment of the state primary law would have been considered an all sufficient achievement for a single session of the legislature in Pennsylvait. The public utilities bill is in itself a great achievement, and while it is being assailed as being partially inoperative it is sufficient to protect the people from the most of the abuses of corporate power in the administration of public service. Taking these measures as they stand, we have cause to be thankful that we attained so much, in view of the strenuous opposition that was encountered in the effort to defeat the will of the people. One of these days we will have a revision of the constitution and then things will be different.

ONE KIND OF CONTEMPT.

The abrupt termination of the Fayette county judicial impeachment proceedings by the legislature simply dropping the matter will not inspire people generally with a profound respect for the dignity or sanctity of the law, or with a belief that the fundamental law of the state is sufficient to safeguard the rights of the people from misrule or malfeasance of office in high places. Definite and specific charges of a grave nature were made in this case, and they were neither proved nor disprove. The legislature simply nolle prossed the case, apparently with a desire to protect the parties involved rather than to protect or render justice to the people.

It is proceedings like this that makes a demand for the recall. If the law as it now stands will not protect the people, it is time for the latter to change it so that they can protect themselves. This is a difficult matter to do in view of the hindrances, checks that are imposed by both the national and state constitutions to prevent the governed from holding their representatives and officials to a strict account in the performance of their duty. It may take some time to bring about these changes, but they are as inevitable as fate. We hear much these days about the enormity of contempt of court, but contempt of popular rights is doing more to undermine our principles of government than any disobedience of the mandates of the courts.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A good story is told of a local clergyman whose absentmindness got him into a rather ridiculous situation the other evening. He was attending a men's meeting of his congregation at the church which adjourned rather hastily to go to Monessen with a delegation to attend the tabernacle meetings there. As the temperature was sweltering, the most of the men at the meeting, including the pastor, had doffed their coats. When they adjourned it only lacked a few minutes to car time, and those who were going snatched their coats and made a rush for the street corner.

Coming back from Monessen the clergymen fell in with a party of men one of whim insisted on paying the fares. As a matter of course the clergymen protested, and reaching into his coat pocket where he kept his purse, he was somewhat dismayed to find it missing. Further investigation brought to light some strange things for a clergyman to carry about in his clothes, and then the pastor discovered that he was wearing some one else's coat. What was worse the coat was a decided misfit, the sleeves being about four inches too short. This added more to the chagrin of the clergyman, who realized what a figure he must have cut, wearing a coat several sizes too small for him.

In his hurry to catch the car he had hastily grabbed another's coat donned it and gave the matter no more thought. He had a dime in his trousers pocket to pay his fare over, and did not have to seek his purse.

"It's a good thing, Reverend, you didn't get his pants, too," remarked one of the party. "Then you would have been a sight sure enough."

In a widely circualted weekly publication the following story is told:

"Hey, boy ook here a minute. What are your running for?"

A business man asked the question.

"Me? I'm runnin' to keep a couple of boys from fightin.'"

"From fighting. Well, well. Who are they?"

"I'm one."

TRAINED IN HOUSEHOLD WORK

German Institution Teaches Girls Domestic Service, and Finds Great Demand for Graduates.

Berlin has an institution, founded about two years ago by a woman. The object of the "Sister School," as it is called, is to train well-educated girls for domestic service. The students are generally daughters of professional men, and the curriculum comprises cookery, housework, the care of children, and needlework. When application is made for the services of a "sister," the matron, or some other woman connected with the school, calls upon the applicant, forms an opinion of the "situation," and arranges terms. Each "sister" must be allowed a free afternoon every week, one Sunday every other week from four o'clock, and a fortnight's holiday in the year. Six weeks' notice is required on each part. The salaries paid range from $7.50 to $12.50 a month, with, of course, board and lodging. Sisters wear a brown uniform, are treated as social equals, are not required to take meals with other servants, and are addressed as "Sister Marie," "Sister Hedwig," etc. The demand for their services is so great that the head of the Sister school declares that she could place 500 girls a year, instead of 50, and similar institutions are about to be established in other German towns.

MAKE WAREHOUSE OF CHURCH

Sacred Edifice at Brighton, England, Has Been Unfortunate Since Its Erection.

To serve as a cold storage warehouse for meat and eggs—such is the fate of the beautiful Church of the Resurrection at Brighton, England. Built at the expense of the late Rev. H. D. Wagner for the accommodation, it is said, of the poorer members of the congregation, and for those who preferred a ritual simpler than that of St. Paul's church on West street, this building first attracted the public attention as the subject of a curious lawsuit. Mr. Wagner planned to build a remarkably tall church, and the owners of the adjoining property, by means of a lawsuit, prevented him from so doing. Accordingly he caused deep excavations to be made, and thus secured the desired internal height. The Church of the Resurrection proved to be a great expense and was closed in 1908, being, in the opinion of the present vicar of St. Paul's, no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was built. In 1909, after prolonged opposition on the part of Rev. E. F. B. Weber, one of the trustees, it was sold. Since then it has stood empty and in disrepair, until the grotesque tragedy of its present usage occurred.—The Churchman.

Tons of Iron Lost in Rust.

One large railroad system suffers a loss of more than eighteen tons of metal daily, due solely to the effect of rust. Thus far the only known preventive is to keep the metal surface always covered with a suitable paint. Some idea of the costliness of this remedy, however, may be gained from the fact that it requires about $10,000 annually to paint one large railway bridge alone. A typical case of this kind is the Brooklyn bridge, upon which a corps of painters are constantly employed, as the weather makes repainting of one end of this large structure necessary before the workers have reached the other. Although experiments have demonstrated that pure iron surrounded by oxygen does not rust, and that some acid, especialy carbonic acid, is necessary for the production of rust, the secret of manufacturing rustless steel and iran remains to be discovered.

Lasting Joke.

How long will a good joke last? Who can tell? You have heard that one about the good sleighing in Canada, and how by putting on a pair of pajamas and sitting on a cake of ice before an open window and ringing a bell one can get the same effect, and much cheaper. Billy Emerson, the minstrel, originated that one over thirty-five years ago, and it is one that has never run down. DeWolf Hopper began to use it in his curtain speeches eleven years ago, and ever since, eight times a week forty weeks a season, he has used it and it has never failed to get a laugh. Always there are some in the audience who never heard it. Hopper figures that with the addition of a few score times at private functions he has "sprung" the chestnut 3,753 times. It is his one best bet, he says, and expects to use it as long as he is in public life.

$20 Gold Pieces a Quarter Each.

When five boys commenced to sell $10 and $20 gold pieces on the streets of North Scranton for 25 cents each, with the supply apparently unlimited, curiosity was at once aroused as to the source of supply, and the boys were taken into custody and given the "third degree." When searched the youths' pockets produced over $500 in gold coin and when questioned they admitted that they had found a "pot of gold."

The money was buried in a box in the cellar of a house formerly occupied by Peter J. Scanlon, who during his lifetime had the reputation of being a miser. There were $620 in shiny gold pieces in the box. The boys, none of whom was over eight years of age, thought they were brass medals and sold about twenty of them before being arrested.—Scranton (Pa.) Dispatch to Philadelphia Record.

Rabbits Cause Immense Loss.

Observant and experienced men compute that eight or ten rabbits eat or destroy as much grass as one sheep. As there as so many millions of rabbits in Australia, the loss in the carrying capacity of the country is appalling. The pest in New South Wales is spreading, notwithstanding all that is being done in the shape of trapping, poisoning, fumigating, and digging out.

Pretty Girls and Plain Men.

When a pretty woman marries a plain man it is not because she pities him. A woman loves a man because of his strength. His determination appeals to her, and wins her in the end, though she may not have been attracted to him in the beginning. Firmness compels a woman's admiration and respect, and that is the first stepping stone to love.

Child-Training.

It is not fair to a small child for the parents or nurse to be careless about the little things that develop thoughtfulness, self-reliance and self-control in a child. Self-control is a characteristic absolutely essential to manhood or womanhood, and it is not learned in a day. It is the result of patient teaching and training through all the long years of babyhood and childhood.

Thought His Duty Ended.

The Duc de Raguse once explained to the Countess de Boigne the nature of his connection with the emperor as follows: "When the emperor said, 'All for France,' I served with enthusiasm; when he said, 'France and I,' I served with obedience; but when he said, 'I' without France, I felt the necessity of separating from him."

Didn't Appreciate Whitman.

Shortly after Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" made its appearance, J. T. Trowbridge was walking with Lowell in Cambridge, when the latter pointed out a door-way sign, "Groceries," with the letters set zigzag, to produce a bizarre effect. "That," said he, "is Walt Whitman—with very common goods inside."

Yield of a Grain of Wheat.

Very few people have an idea of the bounty of nature. A scientist of Cambridge, Eng., recently made an instructive experiment which showed that a single grain of wheat sown in June, produced 47 pounds 7 ounces. One acre of fairly good land will produce 30 bushels of wheat or 1,260 pounds of flour.

Nicaraguan "Capote."

Instead of raincoats, the Nicaraguan wears a "capote," which is a piece of impervious material almost square, with a hole in the center large enough for the wearer to put his head through. It is made by pouring rubber over unbleached muslin.

Whale Cast on Coast.

A whale, weighing five tons, was buried recently on the Berkwickshire (Scotland) coast. The monster had evidently been run down by a steamer, and was cast up by the tide.

WAYS OF FRENCH BEGGARS

Select Their Favorite Prison, Then Commit an Offense to Insure Winter Accommodations.

Beggars and professional vagabonds who have passed thirty years do not fail each year when the winds of October blow to select their winter quarters.

It is then that each of them commits some offense, well knowing that he will get a penalty of six months' imprisonment. The delinquent so times his offense that he will not be at liberty until the month of April, in the first warm breezes of spring. He chooses his winter quarters wisely, for he knows the good and bad prisons.

Fresnes, because of its valued and luxurious accommodations, occupies the first rank among prisons. This year the temperature was such as to bring about some true knavery on the part of these beggars and vagabonds. From the month of August they were forced to commit some offense in order to assure themselves a shelter.

So la Sante, the antechamber of Fresnes, was gorged with prisoners for whom the tardy rays of the September sun proved a cruel irony. If the magistrates show clemency and condemn these derelicts to only six months of prison the disaster of these poor devils will be complete, for they will, without pity, be thrown into the street in the open month of January.—le Ori de Paris.

ARE HANDSOMEST IN WORLD

Royal Irish Constabulary Bear Off the Palm From All Police of the Earth.

According to those most entitled to speak on the comparative pulchritude of the police, the Royal Irish Constabulary bear off the palm from all policemen in all other parts of the world. Dean Hole is quoted in the London Chronicle as contributing the following tribute to the fascinations of the noble Irish force:

"Our London police are well favored in appearance, but if the Royal Irish Constabulary were to take their place for a week there wouldn't be a single female servant to be warranted heart whole in the metropolis."

London goes to the rural districts for its policemen largely, and the result is often as amusing, not to say exasperating, as that which arises in New York from the employment of foreign car conductors, sublimely ignorant of city streets and neighborhoods. The Chronicle writer tells of on encounter with an inexperienced policeman who was asked the whereabouts of a famous firm in the neighborhood, to which query the new bob by replied gayly:

"Bless ye, I know no more than yourself, sir. I only came up from Dorset yesterday."

Tea Drinking a Vice?

A foreign critic says: "In hunting a cause for this apparent decadence of the once mighty people (the British), some scientists have had much to say on the subject of tea drinking, for nowhere else is the habit so universal as in the British Isles. Women and children drink tea off and on during the day. Business men have to stop their work at intervals to partake of their tea. And in most instances the brew is exceptionally strong. It has been estimated that each person in Great Britain, on an average, takes a daily dose of 3.6 grains of alkaloid and 9.7 grains of tannin consumed in tea. This means that the average tea drinker takes half as much alkaloid and nearly as much tannin as the Maximum allowed by the British pharmacopoeia for an occasional dose. And, of course, many thousands of people drink a great deal more than the average dose."

Speed of a Bullet.

Experiments with improved instruments for measuring the velocity of projectiles have shown that the speed goes on increasing after the missile has left the mouth of the cannon. Leaving the muzzle with a velocity of 1,474 feet a second, a projectile has been observed to increase its speed to 1,689 feet a second within the first six feet. It is only after having traveled 25 yards that the projectile's velocity becomes reduced to the speed it has on leaving the muzzle. This is ascribed to the impulse of the expanding gas being felt for some distance beyond the cannon's mouth.

Cheek.

"Cheek" in the sense of impudence is an old term. The earliest quotation in Sir James Murray's dictionary is from Captain Marryat (1840). But it has lately been found in the sixteenth century records of Galway, in the west of Ireland. The municipal rulers of that fighting city—the "man from Galway" has become proverbial for pluck and readiness to defend the hottest of corners—decreed that any person giving "cheek" to the mayor should "forfeit 100 shillings and have his body put into prison."

Varying Melting Points.

The melting points of various heat-resisting materials have been thus determined by the United States bureau of standards: Fireclay brick, 2,831 to 3,137 degrees Fahrenheit; bauxite brick, 2,841 to 3,245 degrees; chromite brick, 3,772 degrees; magnesia brick, 3,929 degrees; bauxite, 3,308 degrees; chromite, 3,956 degrees; pure alumina, 3,650 degrees; pure silica, 3,132 degrees; silicon carbide, beginning to decompose at 4,028 degrees, but does not melt below 4,932 degrees.

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Charleroi People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. There is no better recommended remedy.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

Two and three-reel features were the order at the Coyle Theatre this week, with the strongest ones reserved for the week end. These latter are "The Battle of San Juan," in the three reels for Friday and "The Flying Circus" for Saturday, also in three reels. "The Battle of San Juan" is a three reel Bison, and tells how a soldier of fortune wins a beautiful Cuban widow after a series of thrilling adventures. "The Flying Circus" Saturday in three reels shows how a ropewalker's agility saves the life of his future bride. The former is a circus performer, and his affianced, who is caught in a burning building is carried to safety by him over telegraph wires. A laughable Nestor comedy during the week was "A Mixup in Bandits," which was the story of how two boasting boys were bluffed by girls. "Billy in Armor" was a Gem comedy, which tells how a young man, dressed in armor wins his lady love—not by fighting but in a battle of wits. There were other good films in the week's repertoire, among which were "The Heart That Sees," "The Tourist and the Flower Girl," and "Flossie Visits Bar U Ranch." "The End of the Trail" and "The Honor of the Regiment" were two-reel pictures of unusual merit. Manager Coyle announces an extra two reel feature for Saturday, making five reels for that date.

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

"From the Grave to the Throne," was a great three part drama from the Feature Film company that was shown at the Palace Theatre this week. It was a thrilling court story, full of love, intrigue and politics. A prince of the royal blood is commanded by the edict of the dying monarch to marry a certain princess, when he already has formed an attachment to a young woman in more humble circumstances. By a strange coincidence the lady love of the young prince proves to the very princess he is commanded to marry, but she does not know it. Another unscrupulous woman finds this out, and poses her daughter as the real princess, and causes the original to be abducted, and imprisoned. Some thrilling escapes and recaptures are made before the finale, which of course ends happily. Other feature dramas of the week were "Retribution," "The Woodman's Daughter," the story of a city man and a backwoods girl and "The Race to New York," the eleventh of the series of "What Happened to Mary," The Pathe Weekly Friday night shows among other things 30,000 women in a suffrage parade in New York City, and Frank Chance's welcome to Chicago as manager of the Yankees. Manager R. L. Barnhart has secured a big four reel feature for Saturday.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

With two two-reel features at the beginning of the week, three-reels on Thursday and ending Saturday with a two reel Broncho and the Mutual Weekly the Star Theatre had a most delightful program this week. The first two reel features were "For Another's Sin," an exceedingly strong emotional drama, and "Oil on Troubled Waters," a drama that appeals powerfully to the human sym- another of that series, which shows the strong character of the woman who goes by so striking a title. Other leading dramas of the week were "Rosie's Revenge," "The Surveyors," "The Whim of Destiny," and "The New Conductor." "The Bawlerout," was the big three reel feature of Thursday which as its name implies, shows a most interesting phase of human nature. Friday's bill is "The Tatooed Arm," "That Rag Time Band" and "Old Mammy's Charge." The two reel Broncho for Saturday is "Bread Cast Upon the Waters."

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Farewell performances of Sarah Truax at the Grand Opera House will take place during the week beginning next Monday, June 30, when the Harry Davis Stock Company presents a revival of Charles Hoyt's merriest comedy, "A Contented Woman." Miss Truax's engagement will have run five weeks. It was a happy thought that prompted the suggestion of using Mr. Hoyt's clever farce for the forthcoming week. In it Miss Truax will play the titular role, a type of suffragette now quite familiar to all of us. She is not the militant, mannish type you see in the comic newspapers but rather a gentle well bred young woman who enters politics merely through pique, becoming a candidate for mayor against her husband, whose lack of attention [illegible] of the little niceties and amenities which woman so much admire prompt her to temporarily forget her feminity and plunge into the strife of a campaign.

The author has drawn his types with that same facile pen that has over drawn a laugh of whole-hearted sincerity from fun-loving America—drawn them with the facility and fidelity worthy of a Dickens. Nor has he omitted a type requisite to the scheme of his satire. The strong-minded woman is there in all her bifurcated mannishness; the frivolous folly-loving girl and the dilettante, the brow-beating professional political boss and the trafficker in votes and booze, the henpecked husband of the woman in public life, the busy husband and the petted wife—all the flotsam and jetsam, the riff-raff of politics and the socially elect are part and parcel of this human farce of the votes-for-women campaign. It is a large cast and will present all Mr. Davis' capable players—present them in a lighter vein than has been their habit in recent weeks.

BIG MUSIC FESTIVAL TO BRING THOUSANDS

International Eisteddfod to be Held at Pittsburg Next Week---Charleroi Man to Direct Choirs in Two Contests

MANY COUNTRIES TO BE REPRESENTED

Next week one of the greatest music festivals of the age will take place at Pittsburg in the Capt. William R. Jones Memorial International Eisteddfod, which will be held at Exposition hall, July 2, 3, 4 and 5. Aside from the importance of the affair as a musical event, Charleroi people will have interest because of the fact that Prof. I T. Daniel, music supervisor in the schools is to direct two choirs in two of the biggest prize contests. In addition to the musical part of the eisteddfod, there will be poetical and literary contests that will bring out some of the best Welsh talent in the world.

Some of the most noted musical and literary people in this and other countries will be in Pittsburg for the eisteddfod. People will come from all over the world for the event, and many nationalities will be represented in the various contests. One male choir, the Rhondda Male party, will come from Wales to participate in the male chorus contest One man has been on his way to Pittsburg for the last two months from a remote corner of Alaska and plans to arrive in good season for all the big events. He is not to be a contestant either, but is coming merely to attend the festival.

Chief local interest centers in the male chorus competition and the mixed chorus competition. The male chorus competition will be on Friday morning July 4, at 9 o'clock. Prof. I. T. Daniel, will conduct in this competition a male choir of 60 voices chosen from singers of Homestead, Munhall, Duquesne, McKeesport, Turtle Creek, Braddock, Charleroi and Monessen. In the mixed chorus competition which will be on Saturday afternoon he will conduct a choir of 150 voices chosen from singers of Homestead, Munhall, Duquesne, Braddock, McKeesport, Swissvale, Monessen and Charleroi

The mixed chorus competition will be for three prizes. The first will be $5,500 and a gold medal for the conductor, the second $1.000 and the third $500 Some of the very best choirs in the country are entered. All the entries for the competition are: Cleveland choir, under Conductor J. Powell Jones, who last year was adjudicator for the Monessen eisteddfod; Pittsburg choir under Conductor Morris Stephens; Monongahela Valley United Choir under Conductor I T Daniel, of Charleroi; Philadelphia choir under Dr. Lewis Watkins; Scranton choir under Conductor John Watkins; Chicago choir, under Conductor Hugh W. Owens.

There are 14 choirs entered for the male chorus competition, including the Rhondda Male party from Wales. The first prize for this event will be $1,000 and the second $500. In this chorus as well as in the mixed chorus Charleroi will be represented in addition to Prof. Daniel by Warren Kinder, tenor. Monessen will be represented by one singer "Jack" Harvey.

tures of the whole eisteddfod will be tures of the whole eisteddfod will be a mass performance on Saturday night of "King Olaf," Sir Edward's beautiful composition, by the combined competitive choirs. Noted singers who will assist at the eisteddfod will be Evan Williams, the famous tenor; Gwilym Miles of New York city, probably the most noted Welsh baritone singer in America Mrs. Bessie Tudor of New York; Miss Sue Harvard of Pittsburg and Mrs. Edith Harris Scott of Pittsburg.

Each day's program is to be as follows: Wednesday, Gorsedd convocation conducted by Archdruid Dyfed, and juvenile choral competition.

Thursday morning, preliminaries, afternoon, competitions on soprano and bass solos, duet for soprano and alto. English recitation, crowning of the bard and ladies' choral competition.

Friday morning at 9 o'clock, preliminaries; 12 o'clock noon competitions on contralto and tenor solos, duet for tenor and baritone, original oration and male choral competition; evening at 7:30, grand eisteddfod concert in which the combined 14 male choirs will render the best selections, as well as Dr Parry's Pilgrim Chorus" and T. J. Davies "Cambrian Song of Freedom." Vocal selections by artists of international repute.

Saturday morning, Gorsedd session and preliminaries; 12 o'clock noon competitions on baritone solo, piano solo, quintet, chairing of the bard and chief choral competition; evening at 7:30, mass performance of "King Olaf" by the combined competitive choirs, assisted by an orchestra.

Pittsburg is already filling up for the eisteddfod. Not only will every part of the United States be represented but there will be people in attendance from many other lands, including Australia, Tasmania, South Africa, England and Wales. One of the first to come from Wales was an old friend of Prof. Daniel's from the former home of the local man. This is Prof. Isaac Edwards, who was in Charleroi this week to see Prof. Daniel.

The eisteddfod is having all kinds of backing, including that of Andrew Carnegie. This is partly because of the fact the eisteddfod is a memorial to Capt. William R. Jones, who was for years the head of the Carnegie mills in the vicinity of Pittsburg. The real purpose of the eisteddfod is to create funds to establish an institution for aged and infirm Welsh people.

A good show every day at the Star. Come and we will convince you. 283-tf

DORA UNDER ARREST; DEVELOPMENTS SLOW

procure freedom for Dora Gilmore, the somewhat notorious young woman caught in a recent raid out Maple Creek. Dora was re-arrested at Belle Vernon this morning at about 3 o'clock after her bondsman "squealed" She had been since last Wednesday in Pittsburg, McKeesport and Belle Vernon and this morning it is stated when a rested was in a recently rented house near the railroad tracks at Belle Vernon entertaining company.

What will be done with Dora is a question that is hard to answer. Peculiar phases are showing forth in the case. District Attorney Richard G. Miller was interviewed over the telephone this morning and his instructions were asked. District Attorney Miller explained that the reason he was not at North Charleroi when eleven caught in a raid were given a hearing the other night was because he was away from Washington and did not know when the hearing was to be. This would make it seem that County Detective McCleary had been very neglectful, in spite of the fact that he had announced that the county officials were very desirous of getting some of the alleged violators before the court.

Justice of the Peace Harry W Scott of North Charleroi before whom the information was entered made an effort this morning to get in touch with District Attorney Miller, but was unable to locate him by telewrathful at the turn affairs has taken. Dora was chased out of Wireton it is understood and citizens do not wish Charleroi to be classed as a worse town than that disorderly place across the river.

Apparently Mike Deas, the Greek from a Fifth street shoe shine parlor, who went Dora's bond knew where she was all the time. Anyhow Dora makes the assertion freely according to the police, that Mike was with her in Pittsburg on Thursday and bought her a nice new gown at one of the big stores. It was at his knowledge the police say that she came to Belle Vernon. He was with her there a part of Friday according to the story told and in the belief of Dora became jealous when she entertained another man The Greek told the police Friday night he wanted her arrested, though previously he had informed them, they say, that he didn't care a rap for his $300. Chief of Police C. W. Albroght and Patrolman James Murphy went to Belle Vernon at 3 o'clock and to the place where it was said Dora was stopping. Dora was there so they simply brought her back and locked her up.

Now it is understood that the bond money has been forfeited If Dora remains firm to her promise she will reimburse the Greek for his exceeding good nature and able assistance. Then she may be held for court and she may have to pay out some more money.

DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Dancing all day with a special display of fireworks in the evening is the program that will be featured at Eldora Park on the Fourth of July which comes next Friday. Annually the Fourth is made a big date at Eldora Park and this year the observance will be better than usual if it can be made so. Already preparations are under way at the amusement resort to entertain one of the biggest crowds that ever assembled there. One of the biggest days this season was last Sunday when Joseph Nirella and his prize band from Pittsburg appeared to give free concerts, but it is believed that the crowd of 5,000 or more that day will be beaten by far by the July Fourth assemblage.

Plans that were carried out as nearly as possible on Memorial day for a basket picnic will be followed in the Fourth preparations. The only thing to mar the enjoyment of the offerings on Memorial day was the inclement weather. Even that did interfere with the fireworks.

In the fireworks display this Fourth special pieces will be set off. There will be the usual supply of rockets, to-

VOTE FOR IS 92 TO 83

This means that the continuation of the hearing, which had been set for next Monday in Uniontown, will be abandoned, notwithstanding the opinion of Attorney General James C. LEGISLATURE TURNS BACK CLOCK; QUITS

Pennsylvania House and Senate in Session Until After Midnight---Important Bills Are Finally Adopted

STATE-WIDE PRIMARY BILL IS PASSED

Harrisburg, June 28—By turning the clock back several times the legislature was enabled to adjourn at a late hour this morning thus preserving the fiction that it kept its promise to adjourn on Friday The session was the longest since 1901, which adjourned on the same date, and more than 3,000 bills were introduced in the two houses.

Among the more important pieces of legislation which passed were a public utilities bill, a state-wide primary bill, a measure establishing the commission form of government with the initiative and referendum in more than a score of cities having less than 100.000 population, a bill reducing the hours of employment for women to ten hours a day and 54 a week; a bill regulating cold-storage; a bill taxing anthracite coal five cents a ton and resolutions ratifying the Federal amendment for the direct election of United States senators and submitting to the voters of the state a proposition to amend the constitution so that $50,000,000 may be borrowed for improvement of highways The legislature also adopted a resolution proposing woman's suffrage.

Other important legislation enacted created a department of labor and industry, taking the place of the factory inspection department. In connection with this action there was passed a resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution to abolish the department of internal affairs and to divide its functions between the departments of labor and industry and agricultural and forest Other bills passed provided for electrocution of condemned murderers establishing a system of licenses for hunters; adding vocational education to the state school system; providing for auxiliary forestry reserves to aid in reforestation of lands and conservation of water supply and enlarging the authority of the State over all waterways.

Estimates of the appropriation bills passed run between $75,000,000 and $80,000,000. Of this amount more than $13,000,000 is carried in the general appropriation bill for the expenses of state government and more than $25,000,000 was appropriated for charitable and educational institutions. The state school system for which the appropriation was advanced to $15,000,000 in 1907, was increased this session to $16,000,000 The estimated revenues of the state are expected to be under $65,000,000 so that reductions must be made by the governor, who has the authority to pare down all appropriation bills.

Proposed legislation that failed of enactment included workmen's compensation, minimum wage bill for women, initiative and referendum for the state at large and for Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Scranton and more than 900 boroughs

So much disatisfaction is expressed over the failure of the senate to pass the workmen's compensation bill that it is rumored that an extra session will be called by Governor Tener this winter for that purpose.

The track was practically smashed with the car When Morgan Elder of the passenger car, rounding a curve saw collision was inevitable he jumped He had his ankle sprained. A JOINT AT A TIME.

Like the man who decided to cut off his dog's tail and began by amputating a joint at a time, the advocates of the legislature just adjourned include a few joints of progressiveness, although not nearly as many as the public was led to believe could be attained. Indeed, all the parties pledged infinitely more than was given and the written pledges of the individual members led the people to believe that no difficulty would be encountered in carrying out what the various parties promised. The broken pledges, however, again emphasize the weakness of our representative form of government, where representativees choose to represent special interests rather than the interests of the people who elected them. This experience, however, gives an increased impetus to the changes that are coming whereby the people will have a more direct say in the enactment of the laws by which they are governed.

However, in view of previous and existing conditions, the achievements of the session just ended are really a distinct gain. The public utilities and state wide primary laws are apparently good ones, and while the non-partisan ballot failed to pass it will ultimately arrive. A few years ago the enactment of the state primary law would have been considered an all sufficient achievement for a single session of the legislature in Pennsylvait. The public utilities bill is in itself a great achievement, and while it is being assailed as being partially inoperative it is sufficient to protect the people from the most of the abuses of corporate power in the administration of public service. Taking these measures as they stand, we have cause to be thankful that we attained so much, in view of the strenuous opposition that was encountered in the effort to defeat the will of the people. One of these days we will have a revision of the constitution and then things will be different.

ONE KIND OF CONTEMPT.

The abrupt termination of the Fayette county judicial impeachment proceedings by the legislature simply dropping the matter will not impress people generally with a proper respect for the dignity or sanctity of the law, with a belief that the fundamental law of the state is sufficient to safeguard the rights of the people from misrule or malfeasance of office in high places. Definite and specific charges of a grave nature were made in this case, and they were neither proved nor disproven. The legislature simply nolle prossed the case, apparently with a desire to protect the parties involved rather than to protect or render justice to the people.

It is proceedings like this that makes a demand for the recall. If the law as it now stands will not protect the people, it is time for the latter to change it so that they can protect themselves. This is a difficult matter to do, in view of the hindrances that are imposed by both the national and state constitutions to prevent the governed from including their representatives and officials of their duty. It may take some time to bring about these changes, but they are as necessary as they are. We hear much these days about the enormity of contempt of court, but contempt of popular rights is going more to undermine our principles of government than any disobedience of the mandates of the courts.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A good story is told of a local clergyman whose absentmindness got him into a rather ridiculous situation the other evening. He was attending a men's meeting of his congregation at the church which adjourned rather hastily to go to Monessen with a delegation to attend the tabernacle meetings there. As the temperature was sweltering, the most of the men at the meeting, including the pastor, had doffed their coats. When they adjourned it lacked a few minutes to car time, and those who were going snatched their coats and made a rush for the street corner.

Coming back from Monessen the clergymen fell in with a party of men one of whim insisted on paying the fares. As a matter of course the clergymen protested, and reaching his purse, he was somewhat dismayed to find it missing. Further investigation brought to light some strange things for a clergyman to carry about in his clothes, and then the pastor discovered that he was wearing some one else's coat. What was worse the coat was a hideous misfit, the sleeves being about four inches too short. This added more to the chagrin of the clergyman, who realized what a figure he must have cut, wearing a coat several sizes too small for him.

In his hurry to catch the car he had hastily grabbed another's coat donned it and gave the matter no more thought. He had a dime in his trousers pocket to pay his fare over, and did not have to seek his purse.

"It's a good thing, Reverend, you didn't get his pants, too," remarked one of the party. "Then you would have been a sight sure enough."

In a widely circulated weekly publication the following story is told:

"Hey, you, look here a minute. What are you running for?"

A business man asked the question.

"Me? I'm runnin' to keep a couple of boys from fightin'."

"From fighting. Well, well. Who are they?"

"I'm one."

WILL TRY TO MAKE INTERESTING WORK OF SUNDAY REVIEWS

Quarterly review day in the Sunday schools is always a day dreaded both by scholars and teachess. So in order to do away with the old fashioned review the Methodist Sunday school will have a special review and song service on Sunday at 11:30. It will consist of a five minute review of the past three months' lessons. The first month's lessons will be discussed by Fred Clerihue the second month by Prof. Thos. L. DOUBLE TRACKS NOW BEING USED AT MONONGAHELA

The double track system between Black Diamond and Monongahela of the Pittsburg Railways company's line was opened up Friday and the first cars run over. This is a link in their double track system that is considered a most important one by the Pittsburg Railways company and will greatly aid them in perfecting a good schedule to Donora. Work on the line has been going on for a number of weeks.

MOTHER'S DAY OBSERVED BY YOUNG WOMEN

The Young Ladies Circle of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church held their annual reception for their mothers in the church Friday evening. Miss Bernice Clutter led the devotional hour. Miss Ruth Shutt led the meeting. Readings were given by Miss Nellie Ryland and Miss Marie Whitehead. Miss Emma Clutter sang a solo, Miss Bethel Bowman played a piano solo, and a quartet composed of the Misses Mamie Rockwell, Ethel Kendrick, Elma Collins and Emma Clutter gave a selection.

The address of the evening was given by Mrs. Wingert of Pittsburg who is secretary of the Westminister Guild of the Presbyterian church. The auditorium was beautifully decorated, a color scheme of gold and white being carried out.

A social hour followed the program and each guest received a card at their plate on which was inscribed the following quotation: "God hides himself with the love of those whom we love best; the smiles and tones that make our homes." Greetings were given by Mrs. F. C. Stahlman and Mrs. Edwin McKay representing the Woman's Missionary Society, and by Mrs. R. J. Whitehead and Mrs. J. P. Clutter representing the mothers.

TRAINED IN HOUSEHOLD WORK

German Institution Teaches Girls Domestic Service, and Finds Great Demand for Graduates.

Berlin has an institution, founded about two years ago by a woman. The object of the "Sister School," as it is called, is to train well-educated girls for domestic service. The students are generally daughters of professional men, and the curriculum comprises cookery, housework, the care of children, and needlework. When application is made for the services of a "sister," the matron, or some other woman connected with the school, calls upon the applicant, forms an opinion of the "situation," and arranges terms. Each "sister" must be allowed a free afternoon every week, one Sunday every other week from four o'clock, and a fortnight's holiday in the year. Six weeks' notice is required on each part. The salaries paid range from $7.50 to $12.50 a month, with, of course, board and lodging. Sisters wear a brown uniform, are treated as social equals, are not required to take meals with other servants, and are addressed as "Sister Marie," "Sister Hedwig," etc. The demand for their services is so great that the head of the Sister school declares that she could place 500 girls a year, instead of 50, and similar institutions are about to be established in other German towns.

MAKE WAREHOUSE OF CHURCH

Sacred Edifice at Brighton, England, Has Been Unfortunate Since Its Erection.

To serve as a cold storage warehouse for meat and eggs—such is the fate of the beautiful Church of the Resurrection at Brighton, England. Built at the expense of the late Rev. H. D. Wagner for the accommodation, it is said, of the poorer members of the congregation, and for those who preferred a ritual simpler than that of St. Paul's church on West street, this building first attracted the public attention as the subject of a curious lawsuit. Mr. Wagner planned to build a remarkably tall church, and the owners of the adjoining property, by means of a lawsuit, prevented him from so doing. Accordingly he caused deep excavations to be made, and thus secured the desired internal height. The Church of the Resurrection proved to be a great expense and was closed in 1908, being, in the opinion of the present vicar of St. Paul's, no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was built. In 1909, after prolonged opposition on the part of Rev. E. F. B. Weber, one of the trustees, it was sold. Since then it has stood empty and in disrepair, until the grotesque tragedy of its present usage occurred.—The Churchman.

Tons of Iron Lost in Rust.

One large railroad system suffers a loss of more than eighteen tons of metal daily, due solely to the effect of rust. Thus far the only known preventive is to keep the metal surface always covered with a suitable paint. Some idea of the costliness of this remedy, however, may be gained from the fact that it requires about $10,000 annually to paint one large railway bridge alone. A typical case of this kind is the Brooklyn bridge, upon which a corps of painters are constantly employed, as the weather makes repainting of one end of this large structure necessary before the workers have reached the other. Although experiments have demonstrated that pure iron surrounded by oxygen does not rust, and that some acid, especialy carbonic acid, is necessary for the production of rust, the secret of manufacturing rustless steel and iron remains to be discovered.

Lasting Joke.

How long will a good joke last? Who can tell? You have heard that one about the good sleighing in Canada, and how by putting on a pair of pajamas and sitting on a cake of ice before an open window and ringing a bell one can get the same effect, and much cheaper. Billy Emerson, the minstrel, originated that one over thirty-five years ago, and it is one that has never run down. DeWolf Hopper began to use it in his curtain speeches eleven years ago, and ever since, eight times a week forty weeks a season, he has used it and it has never failed to get a laugh. Always there are some in the audience who never heard it. Hopper figures that with the addition of a few score times at private functions he has "sprung" the chestnut 3,753 times. It is his one best bet, he says, and expects to use it as long as he is in public life.

$20 Gold Pieces a Quarter Each.

When five boys commenced to sell $10 and $20 gold pieces on the streets of North Scranton for 25 cents each, with the supply apparently unlimited, curiosity was at once aroused as to the source of supply, and the boys were taken into custody and given the third degree. When searched the youths' pockets produced over $500 in gold coin and when questioned they admitted that they had found a "pot of gold."

The money was buried in a box in the cellar of a house formerly occupied by Peter J. Scanlon, who during his lifetime had the reputation of being a miser. There were $620 in shiny gold pieces in the box. The boys, none of whom was over eight years of age, thought they were brass medals and sold about twenty of them before being arrested.—Scranton (Pa.) Dispatch to Philadelphia Record.

Rabbits Cause Immense Loss.

Observant and experienced men compute that eight or ten rabbits eat or destroy as much grass as one sheep. As there as so many millions of rabbits in Australia, the loss in the carrying capacity of the country is appalling. The pest in New South Wales is spreading, notwithstanding all that is being done in the shape of trapping, poisoning, fumigating, and digging out.

Pretty Girls and Plain Men.

When a pretty woman marries a plain man it is not because she pities him. A woman loves a man because of his strength. His determination appeals to her, and wins her in the end, though she may not have been attracted to him in the beginning. Firmness compels a woman's admiration and respect, and that is the first stepping stone to love.

Child-Training.

It is not fair to a small child for the parents or nurse to be careless about the little things that develop thoughtfulness, self-reliance and self-control in a child. Self-control is a characteristic absolutely essential to manhood or womanhood, and it is not learned in a day. It is the result of patient teaching and training through all the long years of babyhood and childhood.

Thought His Duty Ended.

The Duc de Raguse once explained to the Countess de Boigne the nature of his connection with the emperor as follows: "When the emperor said, 'All for France,' I served with enthusiasm; when he said, 'France and I,' I served with obedience; but when he said, 'I without France, I felt the necessity of separating from him."

Didn't Appreciate Whitman.

Shortly after Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" made its appearance, J. T. Trowbridge was walking with Lowell in Cambridge, when the latter pointed out a door-way sign, "Groceries," with the letters set zigzag, to produce a bizarre effect. "That," said he, "is Walt Whitman—with very common goods inside."

Yield of a Grain of Wheat.

Very few people have an idea of the bounty of nature. A scientist of Cambridge, Eng., recently made an instructive experiment which showed that a single grain of wheat sown in June, produced 47 pounds 7 ounces. One acre of fairly good land will produce 30 bushels of wheat or 1,260 pounds of flour.

WAYS OF FRENCH BEGGARS

Select Their Favorite Prison, Then Commit an Offense to Insure Winter Accommodations.

Beggars and professional vagabonds who have passed thirty years do not fail each year when the winds of October blow to select their winter quarters.

It is then that each of them commits some offense, well knowing that he will get a penalty of six months' imprisonment. The delinquent sometimes his offense that he will not be at liberty until the month of April, in the first warm breezes of spring. He chooses his winter quarters wisely, for he knows the good and bad prisons.

Fresnes, because of its valued and luxurious accommodations, occupies the first rank among prisons. This year the temperature was such as to bring about some true knavery on the part of these beggars and vagabonds. From the month of August they were forced to commit some offense in order to assure themselves a shelter.

So la Sante, the antechamber of Fresnes, was gorged with prisoners for whom the tardy rays of the September sun proved a cruel irony. If the magistrates show clemency and condemn these derelicts to only six months of prison the disaster of these poor devils will be complete, for they will, without pity, be thrown into the street in the open month of January.—le Ori de Paris.

ARE HANDSOMEST IN WORLD

Royal Irish Constabulary Bear Off the Palm From All Police of the Earth.

According to those most entitled to speak on the comparative pulchritude of the police, the Royal Irish Constabulary bear off the palm from all policemen in all other parts of the world. Dean Hole is quoted in the London Chronicle as contributing the following tribute to the fascinations of the noble Irish force:

"Our London police are well favored in appearance, but if the Royal Irish Constabulary were to take their place for a week there wouldn't be a single female servant to be warranted heart whole in the metropolis."

London goes to the rural districts for its policemen largely, and the result is often as amusing, not to say exasperating, as that which arises in New York from the employment of foreign car conductors, sublimely ignorant of city streets and neighborhoods. The Chronicle writer tells of on encounter with an inexperienced policeman who was asked the whereabouts of a famous firm in the neighborhood, to which query the new bob by replied gayly:

"Bless ye, I know no more than yourself, sir. I only came up from Dorset yesterday."

Tea Drinking a Vice?

A foreign critic says: "In hunting a cause for this apparent decadence of the once mighty people (the British), some scientists have had much to say on the subject of tea drinking, for nowhere else is the habit so universal as in the British Isles. Women and children drink tea off and on during the day. Business men have to stop their work at intervals to partake of their tea. And in most instances the brew is exceptionally strong. It has been estimated that each person in Great Britain, on an average, takes a daily dose of 3.6 grains of alkaloid and 9.7 grains of tannin consumed in tea. This means that the average tea drinker takes half as much alkaloid and nearly as much tannin as the Maximum allowed by the British pharmacopoeia for an occasional dose. And, of course, many thousands of people drink a great deal more than the average dose."

Speed of a Bullet.

Experiments with improved instruments for measuring the velocity of projectiles have shown that the speed goes on increasing after the missile has left the mouth of the cannon. Leaving the muzzle with a velocity of 1,474 feet a second, a projectile has been observed to increase its speed to 1,689 feet a second within the first six feet. It is only after having traveled 25 yards that the projectile's velocity becomes reduced to the speed it has on leaving the muzzle. This is ascribed to the impulse of the expanding gas being felt for some distance beyond the cannon's mouth.

Cheek.

"Cheek" in the sense of impudence is an old term. The earliest quotation in Sir James Murray's dictionary is from Captain Marryat (1840). But it has lately been found in the sixteenth century records of Galway, in the west of Ireland. The municipal rulers of that fighting city—the "man from Galway" has become proverbial for pluck and readiness to defend the hottest of corners—decreed that any person giving "cheek" to the mayor should "forfeit 100 shillings and have his body put into prison."

Varying Melting Points.

The melting points of various heat-resisting materials have been thus determined by the United States bureau of standards: Fireclay brick, 2,831 to 3,137 degrees Fahrenheit; bauxite brick, 3,641 to 3,245 degrees; chromite brick, 3,772 degrees; magnesia brick, 3,929 degrees; bauxite, 3,308 degrees; chromite, 3,506 degrees; pure alumina, 3,650 degrees; pure silica, 3,182 degrees; silicon carbide, beginning to decompose at 4,032 degrees, but does not melt below 4,892 degrees.

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Many Charleroi People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

Two and three-reel features were the order at the Coyle Theatre this week, with the strongest ones reserved for the week end. These latter are "The Battle of San Juan," in the three reels for Friday and "The Flying Circus" for Saturday, also in three reels. "The Battle of San Juan" is a three reel Bison, and tells how a soldier of fortune wins a beautiful Cuban widow after a series of thrilling adventures. "The Flying Circus" Saturday in three reels shows how a ropewalker's agility saves the life of his future bride. The former is a circus performer, and his affianced, who is caught in a burning building is carried to safety by him over telegraph wires. A laughable Nestor comedy during the week was "A Mixup in Bandits," which was the story of how two boasting boys were bluffed by girls. "Billy in Armor" was a Gem comedy, which tells how a young man, dressed in armor wins his lady love—not by fighting but in a battle of wits. There were other good films in the week's repertoire, among which were "The Heart That Sees" "The Tomboy and the Flower Girl," and "Flossie Visits Bar U Ranch" "The End of the Trail" and "The Honor of the Regiment" were two-reel pictures of unusual merit. Manager Coyle announces an extra two reel feature for Saturday, making five reels for that date.

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

"From the Grave to the Throne," was a great three part drama from the Feature Film company that was shown at the Palace Theatre this week. It was a thrilling court story full of love, intrigue and politics. A prince of the royal blood is commanded by the edict of the dying monarch to marry a certain princess, when he already has formed an attachment to a young woman in more humble circumstances. By a strange coincidence the lady love of the young prince proves to the very princess he is commanded to marry, but she does not know it. Another unscrupulous woman finds this out, and poses her daughter as the real princess, and causes the original to be abducted and imprisoned. Some thrilling escapes and recaptures are made before the finale, which of course ends happily Other feature dramas of the week were "Retribution," "The Woodman's Daughter," the story of a city man and a backwoods girl and "The Race to New York," the eleventh of the series of "What Happened to Mary," The Pathe Weekly Friday night shows among other things 30,000 women in a suffrage parade in New York City, and Frank Chance's welcome to Chicago as manager of the Yankees. Manager R L. Barnhart has secured a big four reel feature for Saturday.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

With two two-reel features at the beginning of the week, three-reels on Thursday and ending Saturday with a two reel Broncho and the Mutual Weekly the Star Theatre had a most delightful program this week. The first two reel features were "For Another's Sin," an exceedingly strong emotional drama, and "Oil on Troubled Waters," a drama that appeals powerfully to the human. sym- "Calamity Anne's Trust," was another of that series, which shows the strong character of the woman who goes by so striking a title. Other leading dramas of the week were "Rosie's Revenge," "The Surveyors," "The Whim of Destiny," and "The New Conductor." "The Bawlerout," was the big three reel feature of Thursday which as its name implies, shows a most interesting phase of human nature. Friday's bill is "The Tatooed Arm," "That Rag Time Band" and "Old Mammy's Charge." The two reel Broncho for Saturday is "Bread Cast Upon the Waters."

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Farewell performances of Sarah Truax at the Grand Opera House will take place during the week beginning next Monday, June 30, when the Harry Davis Stock Company presents a revival of Charles Hoyt's merriest comedy, "A Contented Woman." Miss Truax's engagement will have run five weeks. It was a happy thought that prompted the suggestion of using Mr. Hoyt's clever farce for the forthcoming week. In it Miss Truax will play the titular role, a type of suffragette now quite familiar to all of us. She is not the militant, mannish type you see in the comic newspapers but rather a gentle well bred young woman who enters politics merely through pique, becoming a candidate for mayor against her husband, whose lack of attentions which woman so much admire prompt her to temporarily forget her feminity and plunge into the strife of a campaign.

The author has drawn his types with that same facile pen that has over drawn a laugh of whole-hearted sincerity from fun-loving America—drawn them with the facility and fidelity worthy of a Dickens. Nor has he omitted a type requisite to the scheme of his satire. The strong-minded woman is there in all her bifurcated mannishness; the frivolous folly-loving girl and the dilettante, the brow-beating professional political boss and the trafficker in votes and booze, the henpecked husband of the woman in public life, the busy husband and the petted wife—all the flotsam and jetsam, the riff-raff of politics and the socially elect are part and parcel of this human farce of the votes-for-women campaign. It is a large cast and will present all Mr. Davis' capable players—present them in a lighter vein than has been their habit in recent weeks.

Resolutions of condolence on death of Brother Wm. Courtley of Tom Bowling Lodge No. 566 O S. of St. George, Charleroi, Pa.

Whereas. It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite goodness to remove from our roll of membership our beloved Brother Wm. Courtley, who was called away after a long and painful illness on June 19, 1913 and by whose death Tom Bowling Lodge has lost a faithful and diligent member. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we tender to his bereaved widow and family, our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of sorrow and bid them take comfort in the thought, that where he has gone there will be no more pain or suffering and look up to Him who says: "Come unto me all ye who are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest; Lord not my will, but thine be done." And be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the lodge a copy presenteed to the family of our departed brother and that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty (30) days.

Don't Blame the Other Fellow too much if he presents a bill after you have paid it—it's a mistake on his part and carelessness on your part—you should have paid it with a check and then you would have had a receipt.

A checking account with this bank will not only afford you a receipt for each bill paid and every purchase made, but will serve as your bookkeeper, keeping a correct account of all the money you pay out.

We should be pleased to explain our methods to you.
